DAILY GAZETTE.

The Firing on Fort Sumter.

[Correspondence of the Philadelphia Enquirer.] CHARLESTON, March 8. I would not have troubled your readers with Charleston affairs to day had there been no sensation. The telegraph will probably have informed you that an accidental shot from the iron battery at Cumming's Point struck Fort Sunter this morning. I will tell you its history. On passing down Meeting street late last night, I saw that the official residence of Gov. Pickens, and the head-quarters of Gen. Beauregard were still open and illuminated. I saw messengers pass from one building to the other, and imagining that some coup d'etat was in preparation, I defermined to be up early this morning, and on the look out for

About half-past four a boat left the bat tery; containing Gen. Beauregard and his staff, and within an hour from that time the guns commenced firing blank cartridges, and at about half-past six a ball was fived which struck Fort Sumter near the gate. I was watching nost intently with my glass, and saw Maj. Anderson, who had been watching the whole of the proceedings, open his battery on that side. A boat which tetrange to say was the transfer. -which, strange to say, was in the most convenient spot for the purpose-was instantly despatched under a fing of truce Maj. Anderson mercifully awaiting its arri-An apology was made to him, in which he was assured that the shot was "purely accidental"—the officer in command having no idea that the gun contained a ball.

You can take these facts in connection with each other, and pullupon them your own construction. Having moved about Charleston a great deal lately, and having heard the almost unanimously expressed opinion that Major Anderson would capifulate on the first attack, I have no hesitation in saying that it was a plot, the design of which was to test his loyalty to his country and his country's flag. I am happy to tell you that they are perfectly satisfied, of rather entirely dissatisfied, that Major An-derson is neither a coward or a traitor.— The men who expected that he was of Twiggs' calibre are entirely deceived, and the promptitude with which he opened his batteries this morning proves that traitors need expect no quarter from him.

I have heard from the best authority, today, that Gen. Beauregard considers the artillery wholly inefficient to reduce Fort Sumter, and decides that it must be shelled. If he had any doubt hefore, he must have been convinced this morning. Singularly enough, it was one of the largest guns on the Point that was "accidentally" discharged this morning, and one of those nearest to Sumter. It only "grazed the skin" off the walls, and was otherwise harmless.

ANOTHER POINT SETTLED .- In the bill of complaints filed by the secessionists against the government of the United States, one of the particulars not the least dwelt upon was the refusal of Gov. Dennison of Ohio to deliver up a fugitive from Kentucky, indicted in that state for kidnapping, upon the requisition of Gov. McGoffin. The refusal was based upon the ground that the offence with which the fugitive stood charged in Kentucky, was not known to the laws of Ohio, and that the state was pledged to the protection of her own citizens as against any outside jurisdiction, unless in case of the commission of an offence recognized as crime by her laws.-Upon this state of facts the matter was taken before the supreme court of the United States, and on yesterday a decision was For sale by all Druggists and Dealers; or a box of the Onguests' (warranted to have desired effect) will, be ent to any who desires it, by mail (direct,) securely one by one, all the points relied upon by the secessionists in vindication of their traitorous course, whether involving questions of constitutional law or fact, give way when brought before the courts and the tribunal of history .- Chicago Tribune.

VALUE OF AN EXPLANATION .- A certain king, it is said, sent to another king, saying:

"Send me a blue pig with a black tail or The other in high dudgeon at the preumed insult, replied:

'I have not got one, and if I had - " On which weighty cause they went towar for many years. After a satiety of glories and miseries, they finally bethought them that, as their armies and resources were exhausted, and their kingdoms mutually laid waste, it would be well enough to consult about the preliminaries of peace; but be-fore this could be concluded, a diplomatic explanation was first needed of the insulting language, which had formed the ground of the quarrel. "What could you mean," asked the second king of the first, "by saying,

"Send me a blue pig with a black tail, or else --- 211 "Why," said the other, "I meant a blue pig with a black tail, or else some other color. But," retorted he, "what could you mean by saying, "I have not got one, and if I had ?"

"Why, of course, if I had, I should have sent it!" An explanation which was entirely satisfactory, and peace was concluded accordingly.

COMMITTEE DUTY.—The New York Evening Post gives a good illustration of the manner in which committee duties are sometimes performed:

The committee on railroads submitted to the aldermen a report in favor of compeling the Harlem railroad company to construct an archway under their bridge in One Hundred and Twelfth street. Mr. Genet denounced the report, and gave his reasons why it should not be adopted. He also asserted that the committee did not know what the report was when they sign-

Hereupon, Mr. Cornell, a member of the committee, said it was presented to him for his signature, and supposing it to be "all right," he signed it without knowing its contents. Mr. Toumey said another mem-ber of the committee had assured him that he signed it under the impression, that it was a petition. Mr. Boole, chairman of the committee, said he signed it on the assurance of another person that it was proper, and that he did not know its purport. It thus appeared that the report was not drawn by the committee, and that all the members signed it without knowing what it was.

ILLINOIS CENSUS -The official census of Illinois has at last been received. The population is 1,711,738—nearly 20,000 more than at first reported. The increase since 1850 was more than one hundred per na modeljes enel stalike († Leonigeri oblavet kamil )

THE above are Frist Cries, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but five equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and hortrages, upon property in New York and Brooklyi—securities that have not, for the just ten years, depreciated below per, and are revery may more reliable and permanent than railroad bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as at the experience of the past teaches, to become a thought if not entirely, saluciess. In convention, Conrad advocated the majority report, and maintained there was a legal right in secession, though the policy of Virginia should be to make a proper demand for amendments to the constitution and believed the north would accede to them. next-Wisconsin last. MESSES. EDITORS :-- As on the occasion of all former changes in the administration, the Old Dominion marches up to the demand for office on the broad guage. Secession and coercion are forgotten. Ask them "how about the Union?" and their answer is "let the Union slide" till the more important matter of distribution is disposed of. "Give us office, or give us death!" The former programme has been to give Virginia, Maryland and the District a large share of the clerkships in the departments at Washington; and it will be hard work to change the tune. The way the thing has run for the last eight years is as follows:

I quote from the "Blue Book."-The number of clerks from Virginia is 232, Maryland 195, while New York has 189 and Massachusetts but 81. South Carolina has 26, while Michigan has but 11. Tennessee has 30, Wisconsin but 7, and so on in like proportion. The District of Columbia has a larger proportion than any of the states (260) but that is partly accounted for by its location, and many of the District clerkships are of the lowest class. The desposition of the new adminsitration, as I un derstand, is to give the free states at least a fair share of the patronage of the government, leaving out of course the seceding states. The border states will claim, and in my opinion, will get the appointments about on the former ratio. Virginia secession will "hang fire" till after the loaves are distributed. If an ordinance of secession should pass the convention, the officeseekers will cry "peace! peace! wait for the people to vote on the action of the convention." Everybody in Virginia and the District except congressmen and editors are hourse with the cry of " vive la Union." Even the boot blacks on the steps of the "National," ery-" Have your boots blacked sir? Shine up like patent leather for half a dime! Put on the real Union polish!" They even seem to have imbibed the doctrine enunciated by authority, that freedom is not now in the fight, while the Union is in danger, and more than Union is the popular cry, and they want to sell their wares!—Wall street and Washington $243.64 by Ira Justin, jr. street want no more.

FORT SUNTER .- The Cincinnati Gazette expresses the following views of the rumored abandonment of Fort Sumter:

"Had Fort Sumter been reinforced at the right time and in the right way, its abandon-ment would not now be talked about. But Mr. Buchanan saffered the rebels to erect fortifications around the fort; to plant their guns within rifle shot of Sumter; to contruct batteries upon every point commanding an entrance to the harbor, thus rendering impossible without immense sacrifice reinforcement of the fort. Upon Mr. Buchanan, therefore, and not Mr. Lincoln, falls the responsibility of this measure of humiliation which the country seems likely to be compelled to bear. The government has too much before it to justify a waste of time and strength, in contending for a mere point of honor; or more properly speaking in seeking to gain a thing that was previously surrendered, practically, through the treacherous policy of the late administra-

"Standers by are good wrestlers," is an aphorism which possesses much force in its application to the case under consideration. Outside observers are not in a position, at present, to dispute successfully with such distinguished advisers as Gen. Scott upon a question of great importance in a military point of view.

RAILROAD TRAVEL .- The Chicago Tribune shows by the excesss of travel through that city in 1860 over that of 1859, that the west has begun to recover from the terrible shock it experience in '57. For instance in the three great trunk lines leading east from Chicago, the excess of westward over eastward movement, or travel, was 17,574 in 1859, and 33,268 in 1860, showing the nadir point was reached in '59, and that the rebound has now commenced. REGULAR MERSING, ) FRIDAY EVENING, March, 15, 1881. Present-All the aldermen but Mr. Pease. President Bates in the chair. The Mayor came in before the adjournment and took his seat.

Several accounts were presented and referred.

The finance committee reported against the allowance of the bill of I. C. Sloan for prosecuting criminal complaints before the police justice, on the ground that the city is not liable for such services. Report adopt-

Ald. Bates introduced the following order:

Ordered, by the Mayor and Common Council: That I. C. Sloan be requested to procure through the present legislature, an act to enable the city of Janesville to reassess the back taxes for the years 1854. 1855, 1856 and 1857, and that the said Sloan receive $25 in full payment for said services. Ald. Bates also introduced an order allowing the exchange of judgments or city orders for tax certificates held by the city, the certificates to be exchanged at their Ald. Belton moved to amend by adding

7 per cent interest from date of issue. This amendment was accepted by Ald Bates. Ald. Tallman then moved to amend by requiring 25 per cent interest from date of issue. A discussion ensued in which Ald. Tallman, Bates, Dickson, Belton and Shelton participated, when the amendment of Ald.

Tailman was adopted, and the order passed. On motion of Ald. Tallman, the aldermen of the first and fourth wards were allowed to select an amount of those certificates equal to the amount due the fund of those wards from the general fund; the certificates to be held by the city treasurer for the benefit of such ward funds; and the amount to be reported hereafter for the action of the council.

The finance committee reported in favor of allowing the city attorney $10 on a claim of $30 for going to Jefferson to attend to the suit of Clark, Dodge & Co. against the city, and to disallow entirely a claim of $30 for services in the same suit in the supreme court, where J. A. Sleeper conducted the commissary stores, $75,000; ordinance suit. Report adopted.

On motion, the city attorney was instruct sive of the public buildings. ed to collect all mortgages due the city for school house lots.

Ald, Dickson moved that the services of expiration of the term of the present officer, and that the duties of the office be discharged by the lawyers in the council on the same terms as to payment on which they serve as aldermen. Adopted.

Ald. Tallman, from the committee to examine the amount of delinquent city taxes cancelled by the county board of supervisors, reported that the examination was made from the year 1855 to 1859 inclusive; that the work was a very laborious one, and that the committee are unable to state for what reasons certificates to the amount of thousands of dollars were cancelled, inasmuch board have left no other record than the simple fact that they recommended the cancelling of the certificates. The amount cancelled because the taxes had been paid. and the receipt of the treasurer held for them, as appears from the examination of the committee, is $329.38. Of this amount, $35.16 was receipted by J. W. White, $36.-89 by F. A. Kimball, $13.69 by Delos White,

The city clerk was directed to issue the customary notice of the charter election on the 2d of April next.

A petition was received from Patrick Barron asking the city to pay him for loss of time incurred by the accident in firing the salute in honor of Major Anderson.

Ald. Shelton suggested that the claim be paid by the republican party.

Whether the council considered that pardo in satisfying the numerous applicants for office, or whether the alderman is not yet sufficiently in fellowship with the party to be recognised as one in authority in it, we do not know; but the petition received no

A resolution to allow citizens to build a well on the public square, at their own expense, and a guarantee to keep it in repair, was referred to the alderman of the first ward.

Ald. Bates submitted a verbal proposition from Horace Dewey to raise Milwaukee street bridge to a level and warrant it for a year, for $100. The bridge committee was authorized to accept the proposition.

Adjourned.

The election for governor and members of congress in New Hampshire takes place this day, and the contest is regarded with more than ordinary interest, because it has been looked forward to as a criterion by which to judge of the amount of reaction in the New England states against the revolutionary republican party, in consequence of the disastrous effect it has produced in breaking up the Union, in destroying all the commercial and industrial interests of New England, and is now attempting to inaugurate a bloody civil war, the end of which no man can foresee.—New York

A POISONING EXCITEMENT AT BLOOMINGron.—A few days since, much excitement was caused at Bloomington, Ill., by the discovery of a fiendish attempt to poison the scholars of one of the departments of the State Normal School, by putting arsenic on the food. In the Assimbly, a large number of members had leave of absence.

A communication was received from the governor transmitting the statement of the common school and university lands, show ing in 1858 $18,000, in 1859 $29,000 and 1860 $17,000—in all, a dead loss in three vears of $64,643. This report shows that at least one-fourth of the whole amount will be lost, and concludes by recommend-

[Special Despatches to the Concinnati Gazette.] WASHINGTON, March 13.

The departments, the president's house and the lobbies of the senate were all crowded to-day by office-seekers, whose numbers seem rather on the increase than diminished. In most instances the contest for the many places is very vigorous. Indeed, to so great an extent is this warfare carried, that one or two heads of bureaus have agreed that they will appoint whoever the congressional delegation from the section from which the applicant comes may reading and examining so many recommendations. 🦠 No cabinet officer is bored more than Secretary Chase. At the treasury department to-day, he had five clerks who did nothing else but receive and file applications for office. They merely had time to glance at them. Such a rush on this office was never equalled before.

A large proportion of the applications come from the west. From present appearances, just about one in fifty will sue ceed. It is, of course, a physical impossibility for the secretary to give more than a little attention to these numerous applica-

It is asserted to-day, on the authority of Secretary Cameron, that two revenue cutters will be immediately stationed Charleston bar for the collection of the revenue. The friends of Cassius M. Clay are urging him to decline the mission to Spain. They think his services to the republican party entitle him either to the French or English mission. Large numbers here are in daily expectation of the calling of an extra session of congress, in order to deliberate upon the present condition of affairs, and to direct the policy of the government in the crisis. If the administration intend to collect the revenue, as Mr. Lincoln states in his inaugural, it is almost inevitable that an extra session will be convened by May.

The news from Virginia fully confirms previous anticipations that secession has no foothold in the Old Dominion, and that the convention will soon adjourn. It is said that Senator Mason is quite gloomy over the prevalence of the Union sentiment. Secretary Seward would not, to-day, receive the commissioners of the southern confederacy who were sent from Montgom ery, in their official capacity, nor will the president recognize them.

The nomination of Mr. Crittenden to the supreme court has not been approved by the cabinet, on account of the threatened opposition of the western republican senars, which would endanger his confirma-HANKS CALLS ON LINCOLN.-Speaking of one of Lincoln's receptions, the Washingwhole crowd. 🥽 🛶 Speculations in On. Oil speculators in Pennsylvania and elsewhere do not make such sudden fortunes as was anticipated.— The Eric Gazette of March 7th has the fol-

tral committee has called a meeting of that body at Sacramento on the 20th, to consider the peculiar exists of the control of " Many-we might say hundreds-of citada, and others in Ohio and Virginia. We may safely presume that several hundred thousand dollars have been taken from Erie county and invested in coal sites, derricks, engines, labor, etc. As yet, no ade quate returns have been realized for the oney and Irbor expended, and we fear that a large number will never be fully compensated. A few, however, have done well, and this has stimulated their less fortunate neighbors to renewed exertions."

THE LAST DUEL THAT DIDN'T COME OFF. The Washington Republican of last Monday, says:

It was currently reported last night that Sen. Wigfall had left the city for the purpose of sending a challenge to Capt. Jackson, of Kentucky. The difficulty grew out of the fact that, at a dinner party, Sen. Wigfall became very abusive of Sen. Crittenden, when Capt. Jackson, who is a warm friend of Sen. Crittenden, resented the insult by slapping the Texas senator in the month. - The Star of the next day says:

It is generally believed that the difficulty between Sen. Wigfall, of Texas, and Capt. Jackson, of Kentucky, has been adjusted. The friends of Sen. Wigfall say that the difficulty originated in a misunderstanding of Mr. Wigfall's language, which, when ex-plained to Capt. Jackson, was at once ac-knowledged, and the affair thus quietly set-

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times gives the following account of the difficulty.

JOHN M. BOTTS DENOUNCING TRAITORS

—Mr. Botts writes from Richmond to a friend in Binghampton, New York:

"I beat myself for the convention, because I would not make concession to train tors, but I was instrumental in electing others by scores, and of changing the opinions of thousands upon thousands, and I am content. At least I could not have been beaten even in this hot bed of secession. where there was more of it than in any other part of the state, but for the grossest frauds and most ridiculous lies that ingenuity and malignity could invent."

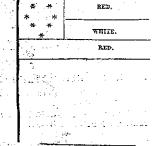

A CHILD'S APPLICATION OF SCRIPTURE. —In a Chinese christian family at Amoy, a little boy, the youngest of three children, on asking his father to allow him to be baptized, was told that he was too young—that he might fall back if he made a profession when he was only a little boy. To this he made the touching reply:

"Jesus has promised to carry the lambs in his arms. As I am only a little boy, it will be easier for Jesus to carry me." This logic of the heart was too much for the father. He took him with him, and the dear child was ere long baptised. The whole family of which this child is the youngest member—are all members of the Mission Church at Amoy.

THE SOUTHERN FLAG. The flag finally adopted by the Montgomery congress is made as represented below. Three stripes, the first red, the next white, and the third red. In the extreme left hand corner of the flag, at the top, on a blue ground, are seven white stars in a circle.

A WOMAN KILLS TWELVE WOLVES .- We are indebted to Ephraim Brown, esq., says the Eau Claire Free Press, for the particulars of a fight which occurred on Monday night of this week at Bridget Creek, be-tween Mrs. T. C. Higgins and about a dozen wolves: n wolves: Early in the evening Mrs. Higgins heard an enusual noise at the calf pen, and upon going out found that something like a dozen wolves were contemplating an attack upon the calf. Upon her approach they retreated a short distance. Mrs. H. is a good shot with a rifle, and she first determined to shoot at least one of the intruders with her hydral and of the intruders with her husband's loaded rifle; but upon reflection she concluded to put strychnine upon some meat she had in the house, and give it to her unwelcome visitors. She did so, and upon the return of the husband, who was absent the fore part of the evening, he found twelve wolves lying dead within a few
